

DATING MAGIC

How to Attracting Women

&

Maintain Their Interest

By Eddies

A MESSAGE FOR YOU

I've watched many of my friends struggle with single life. Some get by on trial and error, but way too much error. It's a painful process to watch. Other guys marry the first girl who doesn't take out a restraining order so they can avoid being so pathetically alone.

That is unfortunate when you consider most men need nothing more than a grownup version of the Cub Scout Handbook. At a young age that book showed me how to properly handle a knife and how to make a fire. These were important skills I used to create much havoc and bedlam. Later in life it became painfully clear that young and not so young single guys, along with recently divorced guys, also need a how-to guide. The only difference is that today we need to know how to properly handle a woman and how to start a bonfire in her loins.

I packed everything I learned into this book. As you read it, you'll get a step-by-step system for successfully meeting and seducing beautiful women that I call the "Becoming an alpha male." You'll learn exactly what to say and how to say it to get the best possible response.

I am also going to focus on preparing you and guiding you to become a 'natural' with women, so this area of life is easy and enjoyable for you. Once you become natural with women, you will then have so much more time and energy to fully focus on the rest of your life.

BECOMING NATURAL WITH WOMEN

A 'natural' is a man who can attract almost any women he interacts with. He can also get dates with women without really having to try. Here is the reality:

1. Almost all men are naturally attracted to physically good looking women.
2. Almost all women are naturally attracted to certain male behavior and personality traits.

Let see a confident and a 'natural' guy walks into a room, regardless of his looks and body shapes, you can bet that all the women will feel a certain level of sexual attraction to him. He'll then need to ensure that he continues to behave in an attractive way if he wants his pick of the best women available.

To become natural with women, you will need to focus on:

1. The behavior and personality traits that is naturally attractive to women.
2. Going out and socializing with women, rather than going out to 'pick up'.
3. Being a masculine man.
4. Becoming great at conversation and flirting.
5. Developing true confidence.

I am also going to suggest that women don't feel attraction for men who try to manipulate them by being overly nice and cordial. For example:

A guy tells a woman outright that he drives a new sports car; earn a lots of money and lives in rich suburb. Logically, you might think that she'd impressed and want to be with him because he has his life together.
